

SOCIETY

A Valentine dancing party will be given tonight by the girls of the Sophomore class of the College of the Sisters of Bethany. The decorations will be hearts and cupid, and the arrangements for the dinner will be suggestive of the Valentine season. The hostesses are: Miss Mildred Wiggins, Miss Irene Toller, Miss Evelyn White, Miss Majorie Baxter, Miss Neva Rehberg, Miss Olive Rehberg, Miss Louise Kiersted and Miss Ida Layton.

Topeka is to have a tango tea—a the dancing, a "dancing tea," the latest form of entertainment. Scoffers who declare that Topeka is not up-to-date must retract. At the same time the supper and the tango tea was born. It grew out of the cabaret. Parisians weren't content to sip their Oolong and brandy and discuss the new steps. They must dance them. When a professional pair breezed about in the hall, couples at tables followed suit. The tango, like a poor relation, had come to stay. Society tangoes all afternoon on the Rue de Rivoli in Paris, at the Ritz in New York, the Baltimore in Kansas City.

Miss Marian Wear and Miss Margaret Koonz, two charming girls who recently organized a local dancing class, will be hostesses at the Topeka affair—the first of its kind in the Kansas capital city. The tea will be given a week from today. The hours are from four to six. Tickets are selling rapidly, not only for tables, but for admittance.

The advantage of the tango is that it appeals alike to those who tango and those who don't. Guests who wish to dance have the Kellam spring floor and a ten-piece orchestra to make them happy. Those who prefer to watch will be seated at quarter tables, where they will sip tea a la tango and eat cakes a la tango served by black waiters in white coats.

Dancing begins promptly at four. There will be twelve numbers, including the one step, Brazilian maxixe, hesitation, dream, waltz and various other tangoes. Each third dance the floor will be cleared for a professional couple—man and woman—who will come from Kansas City to dip and sway and dance in the latest most fascinating steps. Forty tables will be placed about the edges of the hall. The women will wear afternoon gowns, and the men business suits; frock coats tabouret.

The tango is expected to be one of the gayest winter parties, and probably the last of the large pre-Lenten festivities.

The members of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the members of the Sons of the Revolution will have a joint meeting Monday evening, February 23, at 8:30 o'clock, at the First Methodist church. They will be guests at the banquet to be given by the women of the missionary society of the First Methodist church. They will dress in Colonial costume, and will probably have a short program aside from the general program of the evening to be given in the main banquet room. All the members of the D. A. R. who expect to attend the banquet are asked to notify Miss Gertrude Barnes not later than Friday, February 20.

Miss Adelaide Bolmar and Miss Lydia Bolmar entertained their bridge club Friday night at their home in Potwin Place, at a Valentine dinner.

Miss Jennie Bross will be hostess at a meeting of the Monday Bridge club Monday afternoon at the Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Reed of 212 Harrison street announce the marriage of their daughter, Hazel, to Mr. William Kirk, which was solemnized Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, by Dean James P. DeB. Kaye, at the Deaneys. Mr. and Mrs. Kirk are at the National hotel for a short time. They will make their home in Topeka at 212 Harrison street.

The wedding of Miss Helen Louise Stevick and Mr. Charles Nelson Stitt took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Stevick. The Rev. Mr. Millard Troxel, pastor of the English Lutheran church, officiated. Only the Stevick and Stitt families attended the wedding, and there were no attendants. Mr. Stitt has a position in the freight auditing department of the Santa Fe, and he and his bride will make their home in Topeka, at 929 Madison street.

Mrs. Mitta J. Moon, principal of the College Hill school, gave a Valentine party at her home in West street for her high school class and her grammar grade pupils. About thirty guests attended. There was a Valentine shower, followed by a musical program, and after the party the guests had a sleigh ride.

Miss Esther Peers and Miss Mabel Adams gave a Valentine party Friday afternoon at the Peers home. The rooms were decorated with hearts and red carnations, and Miss Irene Peers and Miss Helen Bradley assisted.

The company included: Mrs. Nora Spencer Adams, Mrs. Clark Berry, Mrs. Frank Daniels, Mrs. George Boon, Mrs. Roy Burke, Miss Gladys Bennett, Miss Grace Beattie, Miss Eda Beattie, Miss Ruth Campbell, Miss Helen Case, Miss Lena Chapman, Miss Florence Craven, Miss Emilie Coe, Miss Mabel Coe, Miss Gladys Gaw, Miss Roylyn Geer, Miss Guen Godard, Miss Ethel

ACTRESS PROMOTES BIG CHARITY; WANTS GOVERNORS TO SET ASIDE "RUMMAGE DAY"

Katherine Grey.

Many thousands of New York's poor are lifting their voices in praise of Katherine Grey, the actress, in thanks for her labor in their behalf in arousing New York city's householders to their needs in the matter of clothing by promoting a "clear your closet" campaign. Appeals were sent broadcast and the responses were so heavy that a hundred truck loads of clothes, shoes and underwear were gathered up and distributed to the needy and deserving. Miss Grey wants the governors of the different states to set aside one day each year to what will be called a "rummage day."

Grant, Miss Anne Harrington, Miss Myrtle Hodge, Miss Mary Hoover, Miss Gertrude Woodward, Miss Frances Woodward, Miss Bess Felix, Miss Jane Wells, Miss Janet McMurtrie, Miss Mary Johnson, Miss Anna McKee, Miss Josephine McKee, Miss Marie Mayhew, Miss Florence Nettles, Miss Marion Peers, Miss Corinne Peers, Miss Pearl Reynolds, Miss Mary Reynolds, Miss Stella Simonds, Miss Edie Shreve, Miss Mona Thomas, Miss Clara Johnston, Miss Louise Wilcott, Miss Ethel McKibben, Miss Patterson and Miss Mary Cowgill.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Springer entertained at bridge Friday night at their home in Polk street.

The Social Service club will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Miss Laura Southwick, at her home, 427 Topeka avenue.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Hugh Fisher, 215 Greenwood avenue. Arrangements will be completed for the Washington birthday dinner which the society will give Monday night, February 23. Many of the guests and all of those who serve, at the dinner will be in Colonial costume.

Those who attended the "Variety valentine" dancing party Friday night at Kellam hall were: Miss Lillian Stone, Miss Violet Crumline, Miss Blanche Simons of Lawrence, Miss Mary Baker, Miss Mary Van Vechten, Miss Betty Thompson, Miss Dorothy Miller, Miss Mabel Kingsley, Miss Ruth Foster, Miss Isabel Savage, Miss Juliet Brown, Miss Maude McVey, Miss Katherine Stewart, Miss Isabel Mills, Miss Laura Townsley, Miss Helen Crawford, Miss Marjorie Lyle, Miss Erna Larrick, Miss Josephine Ellis, Miss Kathryn Albright, Miss Leah Bailey, Miss Fern Zutaern, Miss Beulah Searle, Miss Louise Culver, Miss Alice Hughes, Miss Mildred Carter, Miss Helen Barry, Mr. Carl Hathaway, Mr. Sam Stewart, Mr. Frank Ripley, Mr. Kenneth Kline, Mr. Phil Gray, Mr. Warren Humphrey, Mr. Edward Marti, Mr. Erwin Keller, Mr. Edwin Olander, Mr. John March, Mr. Ned Brown, Mr. Kent Moneyperny, Mr. Art Champeny, Mr. Lewis Larrick, Mr. Edwin Seely, Mr. Clayton Kline, Mr. Winfred Grammon, Mr. Harwood Benton, Mr. Herman Ewers, Mr. Robert Steele, Mr. Morris Tucker, Mr. Sam Lux, Mr. Roy Davis, Mr. Frank Fable, Mr. Don Welty, Mr. Mike Alt and Mr. Schlegel.

A good deal is heard lately in disparagement of the manners of some Topeka people. Only today a man who is a frequent attendant at the theater, gave expression to some uncompromising opinions this way: "Why is it that some of the men of the so-called fashionable set always imbibe too liberally just before they go to the theater, and then sit through the performance carrying on a variegated scheme of conversation in tones that drown out the dialogue and even the singing on the stage."

"But perhaps their volubility is not due to imbibing, but just plain bad manners," was the rather doubtful defense of the social lions under discussion.

But the complainant stuck to his guns. "Judging by the odor that reached my nostrils, I concluded that it is a combination of bad manners and straight snore."

There is a certain woman in town who has a good many invitations, but who never was known to get anywhere on time. She never goes to a musicale, or a club meeting without arriving just in time to disturb the listeners. One time she kept a dinner waiting 35 minutes, so that the soup had to be reheated, the birds got cold, and the vegetables soggy, and all the other tragedies happened that overtake a held-back dinner. She will never be asked to that house to a meal again, and if she doesn't mend her ways, neither will she be asked any place else where promptness is the habit of a pleasing guest.

The Duplicate Whist club will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. W. T. Crosby.

The College Alumnae club gave a tea Friday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. followed by a lecture given by Dr. Irene Nye of the Latin department of Washington college. Her subject was "Humor Repeats Itself," and her address was taken from an article in which was published in the Classical Magazine.

The guests at the tea were received by the president, Miss Margaret Wellcome. Miss Laura Ewing poured tea, and she was assisted by Miss Helen Brigham and Miss Helen Ingham.

The literary event of the coming week will be the annual banquet and state meeting of the Kansas Authors club to be held Wednesday evening.

It being the tenth anniversary of the organization of the club, more than ordinary interest surrounds it and a greater number of Kansas authors will be present than usual.

Ed Blair, of Spring Hill, the "James Whitcomb Riley of Kansas," is on the program with some "Sunflower Siftings," also Esther M. Clark, Kansas' well known and favorite poet will be present.

All will be interested in "The Literature of Early Kansas" by Mrs. Mary Vance Humphrey of Junction City.

John Dawson, Tom McNeal, Joe Waters and other well known entertainers will be on hand to stir things up.

Those who delay procuring tickets should remember that the space is limited and that last year several came too late to be accommodated.

It will be held at the pleasant quarters of the Y. W. C. A. building, where this annual event has been for three years past.

The Elwell Bridge club will be entertained Tuesday of next week by Mrs. Clarence Wetherton.

Mrs. J. C. Fulton entertained a few of her friends informally at thimbles yesterday afternoon at her home, 435 Western avenue.

Miss Julia Whitmer entertained her Auction Bridge club Friday night at her home in West Sixth avenue.

Mrs. E. J. Whitaker gave an informal tea this afternoon in honor of Mrs. T. R. Peters of Minneapolis, Minn., who is her guest. She will also be hostess at a party this evening for Mrs. Peters at the Whitaker home. Mrs. Peters, who is a guest at the Whitaker home, attended the exercises of the high school graduating class, of which Miss Ruth Whitaker was a member. Mrs. Peters formerly lived in Topeka, when Dr. Peters was pastor of the First Baptist church.

Dr. F. L. Loveland will give an address at the evening service of the First Methodist church, on the subject, "The Coming National Struggle and Its Relation to Industry." The lecture will concern the question of national prohibition, now before the public. The women of the W. C. T. U. and the members of all the labor organizations are especially invited to attend the meeting.

Mrs. James Battershill gave a Valentine party Thursday evening for her daughter, Blanche. The guests were:

Blanche Battershill, Elsie Schwartz, Dorothy Cole, Elmer Foster, Edwilla Clark, Bernice Felsma, Elizabeth Balch, William Austin, Lewis Larkin, Edmund Platt, Sumner Cole, James Austin, Simpson Green, Orville Foster. Mrs. Battershill was assisted by Mrs. J. A. Mercer and Miss Hazel Jarvis.

Mrs. W. A. Stanfield gave a shower Wednesday afternoon for her niece, Miss Ethel Withrow, who will be married Wednesday to Mr. E. W. Gould. The guests were: Miss Withrow, Mrs. G. W. Palmer, Mrs. Harry Roehr, Mrs. Charles Sardou, Mrs. C. Coddington, Mrs. Jack Mercer, Mrs. John Battershill, Mrs. Harry Senn, Mrs. Herman Soudagen, Mrs. William Shaw, Miss Amanda Isaacson, Mrs. A. H. Dillill, Mrs. F. Withrow, Mrs. R. Arthur.

Mrs. M. Weightman of 830 Fillmore street, was the guest of honor this afternoon at a surprise party given by her daughter, Mrs. Lillian Stevenson, at the Weightman home. The affair was to celebrate Mrs. Weightman's birthday anniversary, and the guests were her friends whom she has known for a good many years. Valentine decorations were used in the rooms open to the guests.

CLUB NOTES.

A new society in Topeka that is attracting the attention of a good many of the women, is the Mothers' Congress, a branch of which is in process of organization in Kansas. The National Mothers' Congress has been a great deal written of and discussed, and its work and projects are familiar to magazine readers all over the country. Kansas has never had a chapter of the society, and organizers are beginning with the establishment of societies in the different towns. Mrs. Edwin R. Weeks of Kansas City, Mo., one of the vice presidents of the National Congress, was in Topeka this week, and a meeting of mothers was called, and a temporary organization was effected. Mrs. Les Monroe was elected chairman, and a meeting will be held Monday afternoon at three o'clock, Feb. 16, at Mrs. Monroe's home, 909 Harrison street, to form a permanent organization and elect officers. A number of the young mothers, as well as the elderly women who are accustomed to take an active part in matters of public welfare, attended the meeting this week, and manifested an interest in the organization.

The object of the society is chiefly educational, and its aim is the welfare of children, to be accomplished directly and through the influence of the mothers.

The Vespuccian club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Mortimer Gragg. Roll call was answered by stories of Abraham Lincoln and Mrs. C. R. Nagel and Mrs. Gragg read papers about Lincoln.

Mrs. R. B. Steele will entertain the Chaldean club at their meeting Monday afternoon. The program on Maeterlinck will be in charge of Mrs. A. T. Daniels, and Mrs. Warren M. Crosby will conduct the study of current events.

The O. D. O. club will meet with Mrs. J. E. Kelly Wednesday afternoon at her home, 1309 Van Buren street.

The Minerva club will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. E. G. Foster in West Sixth avenue. Mrs. Foster and Mrs. W. T. Davis will be hostesses.

Mrs. E. G. Foster entertained the Portia club at luncheon Thursday afternoon.

P. E. O. society will have an evening meeting Friday of next week with Mrs. Hugh Fisher. The committee for the meeting are: Mrs. Burleigh, Mrs. Dimick, Mrs. Whitmore, Miss Amy Wolfe, Mrs. Garland and Mrs. Tandy.

The Research club will have its annual meeting and election of officers Feb. 20. Mrs. R. F. Shumate will be hostess for the afternoon.

Mrs. Hugh Fisher will be hostess at a guest day meeting of the Monday Tourist club Monday of next week, at her home in Potwin Place.

Mrs. Otis Hungate will entertain the Current Literature club at its meeting Tuesday, Feb. 17. The magazines to be reviewed are: Literary Digest, Harper's and the Ladies' Home Journal. Members on the program are: Mrs. R. L. Bone, Mrs. F. J. Brown and Mrs. G. G. Moore.

The West Side Reading club has postponed its meeting for next Tuesday for one week, on account of the death of Mr. George O. Wilmarth, as Mrs. Wilmarth is one of the members. The postponed meeting will be held Tuesday, Feb. 24, with Mrs. S. J. Hodgkins. Roll call will be answered by "helpful recoveries," and a paper on "American Progressivism in Exploration," will be read by Mrs. B. T. Welch.

Mrs. Robert Ambrose and the members of her embroidery club will entertain their husbands at their annual Valentine party tonight at the Ambrose home. The affair, this year, is a card party, and those who will attend are: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Powell, Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Galt, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kerns, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Keys, Mr. and Mrs. Sondahl, Mr. and Mrs. Rollo White, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. George Modell, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose, Miss Belle Evans, Miss Pearl Boam, Mr. L. Lawler and Mr. Sam Pennick.

Of Interest to Women

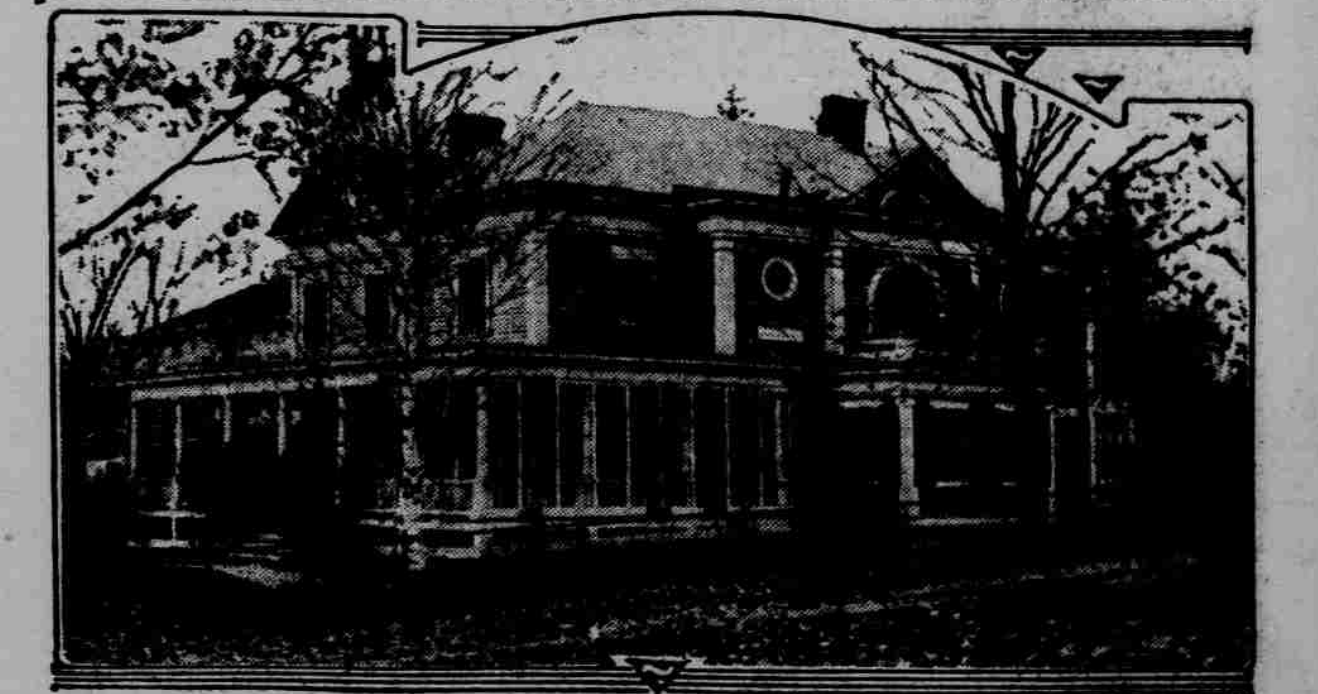

Today's drawing shows some beautiful articles which the woman of moderate means, if she be only passably clever with her needle, may have for her dining room. One is a tablecloth of ecru linen, the other a runner of the same material. The cloth has a most rich and elaborate effect, but though its completion would occupy quite a length of time, is of simple stitch and design. Ecru Cluny lace was used as insertion and edging and the design is worked out entirely in French knots and outline stitch in ecru embroidery cotton. For the runner the same stitch is used, the cotton is in two shades—the stems, scrolls, leaves and scallops and some grape clusters being in dark blue, the remaining clusters in grey blue.

Some neck fancies and a turban for the middle-aged or elderly woman of taste are shown here. These articles, while in the latest mode have nothing about them to offend the woman of conservative taste and may be made from left-over laces and ribbons. The high collar of lace on the upper left may be made from all-over lace or a wide edging. A narrow piping of silk edges the top and a fold and gathering of the same outline the bottom. The neat little bow has one side of ribbon, the other of lace with a crescent of chiffon roses holding the knot. At the bottom is shown a standing neck pleating of net, shadow lace and pipings of satin. The little toque of black velvet is encircled by a band of lace in copper and black and held at the front by two small steel ornaments.

The accompanying sketch shows a convenient and pretty arrangement of wire upon which to hang a muff. A shirred ribbon conceals the unsightly foundation and in the many looped bow is concealed a dainty sachet. The little novelty which acquaints her ladyship with the hour of the night by the simple act of pressing the electric button at the front of the box is a convenience as well as an ornament. A watch is hung on the candle stick. By touching the button a flood of light is flung on the timepiece from the little bulb imbedded in the box top. Ribbon trimmed shoe trees are a dainty novelty and, oddly shaped and artistically chased hand mirror will find many admirers.

SAYRES SETTLE DOWN IN THEIR NEW WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS., HOME

Home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre at Williamstown, Mass.

Williamstown, Mass., Feb. 14.—These are busy days for Francis Bowes Sayre and Mrs. Sayre, daughter of President Wilson. Since their arrival here last week they have been working early and late making things "comfy" in their new home. They have found that their house isn't nearly large enough to hold all the beautiful things they received and that many of them will have to be stored. Mr. Sayre, who has been appointed assistant to President Garfield with his correspondence and in the capacity of traveling secretary will address meetings of Williams alumni in various cities in the interests of the fund.

dollar endowment fund for the college. Since the commencement of the campaign last June nearly a quarter of this sum has been pledged. Mr. Sayre will assist President Garfield with his correspondence and in the capacity of traveling secretary will address meetings of Williams alumni in various cities in the interests of the fund.
